

CANDIDATE RELEASE FORM

In addition to developing a nationally available teacher performance assessment for pre-service teachers, we are interested in collecting samples of strong novice teaching and also to help us better understand trajectories of teacher development. To that end, we ask below for permission to use the samples of your work to help us better understand and develop conceptions of teaching and learning for novice teachers. Use of the video is also subject to permission by parents/guardians of students who appear.

I, _____, give permission for samples of my work submitted to Stanford University and to my preparation program to be used for demonstrating strong novice teaching, for review in developing a nationally available teaching performance assessment, and for research purposes to understand developing conceptions of teaching and learning among novice teachers. I understand that although my identity cannot be concealed in videotapes, it will remain confidential in association with any of my written work in publications and all written data. Unless I give express permission otherwise, pseudonyms will be used in any publications, presentations, websites or other education or research documents.
